

Kenneth Levine
Director, Global Retirement Strategy, United Technologies
Corporation

In his role as Director of Global Retirement Strategy for United Technologies Corporation, Mr. Levine has the opportunity to travel and interact with colleagues from many different backgrounds and cultures. Mr. Levine is a pension actuary by training and spent ten years in benefits consulting before joining Coltec Industries, which later merged with Goodrich and became United Technologies Corporation. He grew up in Connecticut and graduated from the University of Virginia. Mr. Levine is a Fellow of the Society of Actuaries. He also serves as a Citizen Trustee of the Charlotte Firefighters' Retirement System.